To Year 11 pupils

I write to you to make sure you know that I and all the staff at Broughton are thinking about you and we know how hard the past few months have been for you. No one could have predicted Covid 19 or the impact it has had on our lives. I am so sorry that the end of your time in year 11 finished the way it did, but you have to remember all there was before we went into lockdown, your friends, your teachers, your lessons and the laughter and good times you shared.

The situation with your exams has been particularly hard for you, it has brought great uncertainty to all. Whatever the outcome of your results, they will not change the people you are, they are important as they give you chances and pathways to follow, but they do not define you. Hold on tight to what you want for you, for what you want to be to the people in your lives, this is what really matters.

We will be there for you as you receive your results, we will support, advise and guide you as you decide on your next steps. Broughton will always be here for you.

You are a fabulous year group, you have supported each other and showed immense care and compassion for all, especially those less fortunate than yourselves. I have watched you grow in confidence and independence, developing your strengths and qualities as you journeyed through the years at Broughton.

Whatever you chose to do, return to us for Sixth Form, go to College, seek an apprenticeship or employment, set your goals and don't look back, take the opportunities that come your way, embrace new experiences and never be afraid to change your mind.

I am leaving Broughton at the end of this academic year, I will miss everything about it so much but I will miss staff and pupils more than anything. You, our pupils, have made my job the job it has been, wonderful. I have been privileged to be your Head Teacher, I will miss you and I look forward to meeting you some time in the future and hear of the difference you will inevitably be making to so many.

Take care, stay safe and good luck
Ms Clarke
