To Year 13 pupils

I write to you as you come to the end of your time at Broughton Hall. No one could have predicted what has happened to us as we faced and battled with Covid 19. But I want you to remember all that went on before we went into lockdown. You have been such an important part of our school, watching you grow over the last 7 years has been so special.

Each one of you have your own strengths and qualities, something that you must never lose sight of. You will go on to do great things. I often tell you of how when I meet ex-pupils I am amazed at what they have gone on to do, the careers they are following, the places they have travelled to, the people they have influenced and the depth of compassion they have developed. These are all things I can see will be yours, you will make such a difference to the world and those around you.

We will be here waiting for you on results day, here to give congratulations and here to give advice and guidance on your next steps should you need it. Your results are important, they will support your plans moving forward but they are not the measure of you, the person you are or the path you choose to follow. Treasure the family and friends you have and always be prepared to go the extra mile to keep them. Be kind to yourself and as I said in my message to you, keep looking forward, look for opportunities but enjoy life for what it truly is, special.

I hope that you will always feel part of Broughton because you always will be. I am also leaving Broughton this year and I leave a part of me behind and take a huge part of what Broughton has meant to me with me. You, the pupils have made my job the job it has been, wonderful. You have made me smile so often and you have made me take notice of things I would not have had the privilege to recognise.

Take care, stay well and good luck

Ms Clarke
